DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because in line 1, "The present invention relates to" should be deleted. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Objections

3. Claims 1, 5, 8, 14, 16, 20, 22, 25, 27 objected to because of the following informalities:

- a. claims 1 and 20, "laterally" should read —lateral—;
- b. claim 2, "take-off surface is angled towards the longitudinal axis of the frame so that the take-off surface is turned against the frame" is unclear. The examiner questions how the surface can be angled toward the axis of the frame and also against the axis of the frame. Clarification is required;
- c. claims 5, 14, 22, 25 and 27, "or the like" is indefinite and should be deleted;
- d. claims 8 and 20, "angular" should read —angularly--;

Art Unit: 3764

- e. claim 16, "(d1, d2, d3)" should be deleted;
- f. claims 28-31, It has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

- g. Claims 1-14, 17-18 and 20-31 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fichter et al in view of Hendrey. Fichter discloses a block 32 in figure 5, a frame 10, where the ends are attached to the ground 20 (fig. 3), a take-off surface 33 and an angle adjustable surface (col. 3, lines 49-53), an adjustment device 36, fastening means 38, 39 a slot 22, attachment means 13. Fichter discloses all of the limitations of the invention except for the angular adjustable in a lateral direction. Thus, 'Hendrey teaches in figure 4 the block adjustable in a lateral direction. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Fichter et al in view of Hendrey such that adjustment in a different direction increases the flexibility of the user while performing exercises. Regarding the take-off surface angle of 0-20 degrees, preferably 2-10 degrees, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to construct the angles from 0-20 to the axis of the frame, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233. Regarding claims 28-31, the recitations have not been given patentable weight because the recitations are purely functional in nature and does not recite any structure.
